

DONALD S. HUENE, M.D.

Dr. Huene was born in Pensacola, Florida and was raised on a ranch in Fresno, California. He graduated Summa Cum Laude from North Field Mount Herman in North Field, Massachusetts in 1979. He achieved his medical degree at Bowman Gray School of Medicine of Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, North Carolina in 1987.

Dr. Huene then went on to Stanford University to perform his residency in Orthopedic Surgery from 1989 to 1994. He was the first accredited fellow for the Upper Extremity Fellowship of the Division of Hand Surgery at Stanford University in 1995.

Dr. Huene has been in Reno since 1995. He was the team physician for the Reno Rage from 1996-1998.

